

I believe that a true Democracy demands that it's citizens have access to a variety of opinions and that news outlets should be as independent of each other as possible. I believe that those outlets owned by the same parent company ultimately serve the interests of that company. Please encourage the market to diversify even more.

Thanks